

MyShare: Platinum Demerger

Paying the tax due on your Valterra Platinum shares

You will need to pay some dividend tax on the Platinum Valtterra shares you've received.

To work out how much dividend tax you will need to pay, follow the steps below.

We've added Matt's story as an example to guide you.

Calculating the tax due

1. Check how many Platinum Valterra shares you received

Computershare will provide you with a Demerger and Consolidation Post Event Notification on the landing page of the EquatePlus portal detailing how many Platinum Valterra shares you received: 110 for every 1075 Anglo American shares held on 30th May.

Before the Platinum demerger, Matt held 73.19 Anglo American shares.

For every 1,075 Anglo American shares held on 30th May, Matt received a distribution of 110 Platinum Valterra shares.

This means Matt received 7.489 Platinum Valterra shares.
 $110/1,075 \times 73.19 = 7.489$

2. Calculate the total value of your Platinum Valterra shares

To do this, multiply the number of Platinum Valterra shares you received by the price that these were worth on 30 May 2025, the day of the demerger: ZAR 704.72.

Matt multiplies his 7.489 Valterra Platinum shares by ZAR 704.72 to work out their total value.

The Valterra Platinum shares are worth ZAR 5,277.65
 $\text{ZAR } 704.72 = \text{ZAR } 5,277.65$.

3. Calculate the taxable value of your Platinum Valterra shares

To do this, divide the total value of your Platinum Valterra shares by the FX rate, which is 11.567 ZAR : 1 AUD.

This is the amount you will need to report and pay dividend tax on.

Matt divides the total value of his Platinum Valterra shares, ZAR 5,277.65, by 11.567 ZAR to work out their taxable value.

Matt will need to report and pay dividend tax on AUD 456.27.
 $\text{ZAR } 5,277.65 / 11.567 = \text{AUD } 456.27$.

How to report and pay the tax due

In Australia, dividend tax is due at a rate of up to 47% (inc. Medicare levy) on the total taxable value of your Valterra Platinum shares. The tax rate will depend on your overall level of income.

Employees are required to include any assessable income in their annual income tax return for the income year in which they received the distribution.

The assessable dividend should be included in question 11 of your income tax return with any other dividend income received.

You are required to file your tax return by 31 October following the end of the relevant income year, or at a later date if filing through a registered tax agent.
