

MyShare: Platinum Demerger

Paying the tax due on your Valterra Platinum shares

You will need to pay some dividend tax on the Platinum Valterra shares you've received.

To work out how much dividend tax you will need to pay, follow the steps below.

We've added Matt's story as an example to guide you.

Calculating the tax due

1. Check how many Platinum Valterra shares you received

Computershare will provide you with a Demerger and Consolidation Post Event Notification on the landing page of the EquatePlus portal detailing how many Platinum Valterra shares you received: 110 for every 1075 Anglo American shares held on 30th May.

Before the Platinum demerger, Matt held 73.19 Anglo American shares.

For every 1,075 Anglo American shares held on 30th May, Matt received a distribution of 110 Platinum Valterra shares.

This means Matt received 7.489 Platinum Valterra shares.
 $110/1,075 \times 73.19 = 7.489$

2. Calculate the total value of your Platinum Valterra shares

To do this, multiply the number of Platinum Valterra shares you received by the price that these were worth on 30 May 2025, the day of the demerger: ZAR 704.72.

Matt multiplies his 7.489 Valterra Platinum shares by ZAR 704.72 to work out their total value.

The Valterra Platinum shares are worth ZAR 5,277.65
 $ZAR 704.72 = ZAR 5,277.65$.

3. Calculate the taxable value of your Platinum Valterra shares

To do this, divide the total value of your Platinum Valterra shares by the FX rate, which is 52.68 ZAR : 1 CLP.

Matt divides the total value of his Platinum Valterra shares, ZAR 5,277.65, by 52.68 to work out their taxable value.

This is the amount you will need to report and pay dividend tax on.

Matt will need to report and pay dividend tax on CLP 100.18
 $ZAR 5,277.65/ 52.68 = CLP 100.18$

How to report and pay the tax due

The receipt of the Valterra Platinum shares is a dividend. It is subject to a 25% first category tax, plus personal income tax at progressive rates ranging from 0% to 40%, with a tax credit for the first category tax already paid.

In practice, this means that the dividend will be taxed at a rate of 25%, plus personal income tax (which shall be at a rate of 0-40%, minus the value of the 25% tax paid).

You are required to declare the taxes due on receipt of the Valterra shares on your tax return, which must be submitted in April of the year following the transaction ie April 2026, on Form No. 22.
